

We need YOUR memories

Rochford District Community Archive is a collection of the memories, stories and photos of ordinary peoples' lives.

The archive is on the internet and is available for anyone to look at. You are invited to contribute your own content.

The website address is:

www.RochfordDistrictHistory.org.uk

The archive will be a permanent record of the lives of ordinary people who have lived and worked in the Rochford District:

Rayleigh, Rochford, Hockley, Hawkwell, Canewdon, Paglesham, Barling, Great and Little Wakering, Rawreth, Ashingdon, Sutton with Shopland, South Fambridge, Great and Little Stambridge, Hullbridge, Wallasea, Foulness and all the Islands.

We are interested in reminiscences, photos or any other memorabilia you have about everyday life in the Rochford District. We do not need to keep any of your photos, maps etc but will scan them and return them to you.
